Experience

On Going — INDRA

Working as a software engineer creating airport simulation software. Written in C++ and C. Also I've been developing plugins for Autodesk Maya in C++ and Python.

- Support and development of improvements in the internal modeling tool. Fixing some internal bugs and developing a new tool to create and assign atlas textures to models.
- Plugin programming for Autodesk modeling software, Maya. Developing the functionality to dynamically generate geometry based on a proprietary file format, and tools and interfaces to help 3D artists to generate the extra elements of the airport.

3 Month — Desarrollo-Tic

Support the applications made by the company for banks like Caja Rural de Granada and developing of a feature to automatically detect and translate the context of the webpage depending on the region using Symphony and PHP.
